

Leading Justice Into the Future

Judicial Council Advisory Committees and Task Forces Show the Way

Each year, hundreds of volunteers from around the state contribute to the work of the Judicial Council. These men and women represent every facet of court administration. All volunteers generously give their time, lend their perspectives, and apply their expertise to the complex challenges facing the courts. Their efforts inform the council’s decisions and advance our common goal: improving the administration of justice in California.

Our thanks to the women and men who not only share the ideals of equal access under the law but are also willing to work to guarantee them.

Note: Individuals listed here served on Judicial Council committees and task forces for the period August 1, 1999, through October 30, 2000. Any omissions are unintentional.
